Passive euthanasia. Although it is an offence to actively end a patient's life, many doctors still assist their patients with their wishes by withholding treatment and reducing pain, "according to a 2006 article in the Guardian". This, however, is only done when the doctors feel that "death is a few days away and after consulting patients ...

Having grown up in the church from infancy, I've probably partaken of the Lord's Supper nearly a thousand times. Some of you from traditions that partake once a week or more, your total could be over 2,500 -- plenty enough times to have become boring, repetitious, or practically meaningless, though a sentimental anchor that feels right to you.
